Ruman Set for NOLA Motorsports Park – Trans Am Round 10

Munroe Falls, Ohio – Amy Ruman and her team will be traveling south again, approximately 1,050 miles south that is, from team operations in Ohio for Round 10 of the Trans Am championship. Trans Am drivers will be competing for the first time at NOLA Motorsports Park in Avondale, LA. The new addition to the schedule will host the Trans Am Series this weekend in conjunction with the Sportscar Vintage Racing Association, SVRA.

Located just 14 miles from the French Quarter of New Orleans, NOLA presents a 2.75-mile, world-class track consisting of 16 turns, with a 5,200-foot straightaway. The track offers a challenging smooth layout, hosted by recent track improvements.

After a washed out rainy weekend at VIR a few weeks ago, the teams are hoping for warmer, dryer weather. Ruman in her No. 23 McNichols/Don Sitts Auto Chevrolet Corvette, currently still controls the lead by 14 points in the premier TA class of Trans Am Championship points standings, and is looking to stay there.

“I’m excited to see what New Orleans is all about!” piped Ruman. “I have never been there before or to the NOLA track. I’m looking forward to the southern hospitality that everyone is always talking about. I really need a good finish here, its clutch time. I will try and learn what I can from every session and make as many improvements as we can to the setup before the race on Sunday.”

The track is hosting a test day on Thursday October 8th. The first official Trans Am practice will be at 10:45am on Friday, then “Fast Five” qualifying for the TA class at 3:30pm, followed by TA2 and TA3. Saturday will be the second official practice session at 10:20am. After a morning warmup at 8:15am, the combined field will see the green flag on Sunday October 11th at 12:45pm for the 37-lap, 101.75-mile race. All times listed are CDT.
